

Enhancing the News

July 2006

Indonesia hit by earthquake

A strong earthquake hit near Jakarta on Thursday 20th of July, just days after another quake hit off the coast of Java causing a tsunami and high numbers of casualties. With our proximity to Asia it is natural for us to want to know more about these seismic events. To explore this topic more closely in the classroom why not download the free feature article, Our violent world. If you would prefer to use audio-visual material then why not consider the programs Our Earth: Pushing and Shoving and Our Earth: The Fires Below. These programs look at the Earth's volatile physical makeup.